

STARTING OVER

It started again
When you thought it was finished
Your emotions were low
Though hope not diminished
You seen it before
Sort of feels like a flashback
Similar scene, same score
Gonna remake a classic
This time, if you're fate's really in it
In time, if it's real you can win it
It's time, so go ahead 'n' begin it

As it takes you along
To the place that it's goin'
Feel you're movin' too fast
But the music ain't slowin'
There's a tune in your head
Now you notice the weather
Seems your heart's back in shape
Whenever you're together

This time, feels more real than the other
In time, the wheel will spin for another
It's time to get started all over again
